Jacob and Rachel Landis Stahl celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary Saturday, Nov. 20. They were honored with a drop-in party at Landis Homes West community room, and spent a weekend last March at Refreshing Mountain Camp with their children and grandchildren.

They were married Nov. 20, 1954, at Landis Valley Mennonite Church by Amos Horst.

Mr. Stahl retired after 42 years of farming. He enjoys taking care of his fruit trees and stamp collecting.

Mrs. Stahl is a homemaker and enjoys needlework.

Together, they volunteer at Landis Homes Retirement Community and Lancaster Mennonite Historical Society. The Stahls enjoy traveling, reading and spending time with their grandchildren, and also enjoy hosting guests in their home.

They are members of Word of Life Mennonite Fellowship, Lititz.

They have a son, Joseph, husband of Eileen Martin Stahl of Lititz; five daughters, Joy, wife of Nelson Weaver and Sara, wife of Royce Burkholder, both of Lititz, Eunice, wife of Lester Zeager of Greenville, N.C., Mary Lois, wife of Clayton Shenk of York, and Becki, wife of Geoff Sensenig of Myerstown; 22 grandchildren; and three great-grandchildren.
