Ara Charles Artinian, 68 entrepreneur, magician, and bon vivant

Ara Charles ('Chuck') Artinian, son of Armenian immigrants Anna Sanioossian Artinian and Charles Bajakusian Artinian, died from complications connected to esophageal cancer Friday

April 25 at his home in Cochranville, Pennsylvania.

Mr. Artinian, well known for his exuberant character, his skill as an entertainer and magician, and also his success in business, was born in Philadelphia and grew up in the Lansdowne section of the city. After graduating from Lansdowne High School in 1957, where he was captain of the football team, he earned a Bachelor of Science in Business Studies from Drexel University in 1962. There he was President of the fraternity Tau Kappa Epsilon, Master of Ceremonies at weekly Great Court rallies, and features editor of the university newspaper.

After completing his studies, Mr. Artinian's business acumen and love of meeting new people, exploring new places, and facing new challenges took him across the country. For ten years he worked as distribution and marketing manager for two national corporations in California, Minnesota, Georgia and Pennsylvania. During this time he was Charter President and founder of the Stone Mountain Industrial Park Management Association in Georgia.

From 1968 onwards, Mr. Artinian lived in Chester and Lancaster Counties in Pennsylvania, working first for the Green Giant corporation, then for Hayes Real Estate and finally for himself, founding his own brokerage company, ARA Real Estate, and later also the real estate holding company ARA Consulting Ltd. Close colleague Gary ('the cowboy') Stapleton remembers his business drive and creativity: 'Chuck never failed to remind me that the man who said 'it couldn't be done' should never interrupt the cowboy and magician - who were already doing it'

Advisory Board for Gap, PA for over eleven years.

Beyond his achievements in business and local government, perhaps Mr. Artinian was best known for his gregarious character and love of life, connected to which was his much esteemed talent as a magician and entertainer. In 1977 he opened the Corn Crib Restaurant in Christiana, PA, where he became known as 'The Great Zucchini' for his impromptu tableside magic, something he later always took with him to places near and far - performing tricks spontaneously everywhere from corner pubs in London, to real estate settlement meetings, to the Paris metro.

In keeping with his sharp sense of humor, part wit and part irreverence, Mr. Artinian authored the book Rhyme and Punishment, a collection of his locally inspired puns and insights. He was also well known for his sartorial creativity, rarely seen without his bowler hat and mutton chops, which he began sporting after an appearance as a movie extra in the film Beloved.

With his compassion and concern for others, he had a deep influence on many around him, particularly younger people. Danny Walker, son of longtime business partner Don Walker, says, 'His humor and outlook have had a big impact on me. It's also occurred to me that he's probably never taught anyone all those amazing magic tricks. Just how is that dice trick done?'

Mr. Artinian recently achieved a long held goal by visiting his ancestral homeland, traveling to Armenia (his parents originated from Malatya in Eastern Anatolia) and visiting Etchmiadzin, the holy see of the Armenian Orthodox Church. He was a lifelong member of the congregation of St Gregory's Armenian Apostolic Church in Philadelphia.

Mr. Artinian was predeceased by his younger sister, Betty Ann Artinian. He is survived by wife Marian Artinian, daughter Emily Artinian-Smith and her mother Jane Artinian, nephew Paul Karabashian, and the Bajakesian family in France.

A memorial service will be held at 11:00 am on Saturday May 2, 2008 at Moses Decker

As written by Lewis

"Do what you have to do" must be your guide throughout the bitter storm.

Acknowledge as your guide, Necessity, as you struggle onward through the night. And when at last the dawn appears, embrace with Love that which you have to do. For it will make a path that's perfect as you journey upward into total light.

Five years ago you completed your journey.

You are forever in our hearts.
We love you and we miss you.
