

Allan and Nesta Ferguson Charitable Trust masters scholarships | International students

The University of Sheffield has a strong commitment to international development. One of the themes of our strategy is ‘celebrating, promoting and increasing the volume of the work that we do to improve the lives of others through our international relationships, locally and abroad’.

Building on this commitment the University, in collaboration with the Allan and Nesta Ferguson Charitable Trust and the Sheffield Institute for International Development, is now able to offer 10 scholarships (over three years) targeted at international students from developing countries for a number of courses that are affiliated with the Sheffield Institute for International Development.

2021 Scholarships

There are three scholarships available to academically strong individuals from developing countries. Each scholarship offers the following:

- A full tuition fee waiver
- Maintenance for University accommodation and a monthly stipend
- Eligible students will be contacted and invited to apply on 17 May 2021, no action is required before this date

How to apply

You will be automatically considered for the scholarship if you receive an offer to study one of the eligible courses and you are a national of, or permanently domiciled in, one of the eligible countries or territories.

Your course application will be assessed by a panel of academic judges to decide whether you will progress to the final stage of the application process.

Please use our postgraduate online application system to submit your application for an eligible course.

Selection process

If you are selected for the final stage of the application process we will contact you (date to be confirmed). At this point we may ask you to submit a short personal statement to support your application.

If you do not receive an email by asking you to submit a personal statement for the Allan & Nesta Ferguson Scholarship you have not been selected for this award.

The final decision for those asked to submit an application will be made by a deadline to be confirmed.
